A 30-foot astronomical observatory is home to OWCC's popular astronomy courses. On the Niceville campus, the observatory features an automated 18" reflective telescope, complete with a complex digital camera and software to allow the location and recording of events in the sky. The recording system allows instructors to return repeatedly to the same object in the sky to demonstrate phenomena that occur over time or to record events for daytime classes. The observatory houses a small classroom to allow students to view astronomical phenomena as they occur in the night sky.
