Course Description

The general principles of biology will be covered. Where possible, human biology and the environmental impact of human activity will be emphasized. This is a general education course not intended for biology majors.

Course Materials

Mader, S. and M. Windelspecht. Inquiry into Life, 14th ed.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Demonstrate the ability to critically examine and evaluate scientific observation, hypothesis, or model construction, and to use the scientific method to explain the natural world.
- Successfully recognize and comprehend fundamental concepts, principles, and processes about the natural world.

Grading Procedures

There will be exams and quizzes given during this course. The date of each exam will be given in class. All exams are worth 100 points (the final is worth 200 points). There will be a mandatory, comprehensive final given on Thursday, October 8th, during normal class hours. It will not be offered early. Any conflict with this day must be brought to my attention within the first two weeks of class. There are NO make-up exams, with the exception of official school-sponsored events or military deployment.

You must discuss these types of absences with the instructor BEFORE the exam. Otherwise, you can drop your lowest exam grade (not the final) and replace it with the total points from your quizzes. No exams will be handed out after the first student has completed and returned their exam, this includes if you are late. You are not allowed to leave the classroom during an exam (use the restroom beforehand). There is a maximum time limit of one hour to complete the exam (except the final).

Five quizzes will be given during the semester. Total quizzes are worth 100 points and are given online via D2L. Quizzes will be given for select chapters to reinforce material. As such, the quiz will be available after lecture for the duration of one week. There are NO make-up quizzes. Quizzes are timed (15 minutes), but you are allowed two attempts to try to increase your score, if necessary. Group activities may be performed during class to reinforce the material; however, these will not be graded. With the amount of graded assessments available, you should have ample feedback regarding your performance in this course.

Grading Scale: 90-100% = A; 80-89% = B; 70-79% = C; 60-69% = D; 0-59% = F

Withdrawal, Incomplete, and Failure-to-Attend Grades

Should a student wish to withdraw from the course, it is the student's responsibility to withdraw before the withdrawal deadline. Otherwise, the student will receive an "F."

At the discretion of the instructor, an incomplete grade ("I") may be awarded when the student is unable to finish the required work because of unforeseen extenuating circumstances, such as illness or TDY assignment. To receive an "I" grade, the student must have successfully completed a significant portion of the required coursework and be able to finish the remaining work without attending class. An "I" grade will automatically convert to a grade of "F" if the student does not complete the remainder of the coursework by the established deadline.

Both the F and FA (failure-to-attend) are failing grades, are calculated as such in the student's GPA, and show up on the student's transcript. A student's GPA and his or her time-to-degree are both factors in qualifying for future aid as outlined in the College's Standards of Satisfactory Academic Progress.

Make-up Work

There are no make-up quizzes or exams. If an official school-sponsored event or military deployment requires that you must miss an exam, you must notify the instructor before the exam.

Classroom Conduct

It is expected that students act with professionalism and courtesy toward other students and the instructor. It is expected that you arrive to class on time and stay the duration of the lecture. If you must leave early, it is appreciated that you let the instructor know ahead of time. If you must leave early, please do so quietly and with minimal distraction to others.

Class Attendance

Class attendance is an integral part of the learning process for this course. Students are expected to attend class regularly. Students who stop attending class or are not able to pass the course due to attendance expectations stated in the syllabus may receive a failing grade of “FA.” An “FA” grade is a failing grade in GPA calculations and may impact the receipt of federal aid in subsequent courses. Students traveling for college-approved activities will not be penalized academically, but will be responsible for missed work.

Important Dates

Drop/Add Ends – August 26th

Last Day to Change to Audit or Withdraw with a Grade of “W” – September 24th

Final Exam – Thursday, October 8th, during normal class hours

Cell Phone/Electronic Devices

Cell phones, pagers, and other such electronic devices must not distract from learning. Courtesy to the professor and other students requires that phones be on vibrate or silent mode during class. No student should initiate conversations, including texts, during class activities. Use of electronic communication devices during examinations or other graded activities may constitute grounds for disciplinary action; such devices must be completely out of sight during exams or other assessments. Where emergency or employment situations require access to electronic communication services, arrangements must be made in advance with the instructor.

Emergency College Closure

In the event of unusual or extraordinary circumstances, the schedule, requirements, and procedures in this course are subject to change. If the college closes for inclement weather or other emergency, any exams, presentations, or assignments previously scheduled during the closure period will automatically be rescheduled for the first regular class meeting held once the college re-opens. If changes to graded activities are required, students will not be penalized as a result of the adjustments, but will be responsible for meeting revised deadlines and course requirements.

Children in the Classroom

As a courtesy to other students and the learning process, students may not bring children with them to class sessions. Health and safety concerns prohibit children from accompanying adult students in any lab, shop, office, or classroom or other college facility where potential hazards exist. If a child-related emergency means you must miss class, contact the instructor as soon as possible to determine your options. (The full “Children on Campus” policy statement appears in the College Catalog.)

Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Academic Integrity

Students are responsible for adherence to all college policies and procedures, including those related to academic freedom, cheating, classroom conduct, computer/network/e-mail use and other items included in the Northwest Florida State College Catalog and Student Handbook. Students should be familiar with the rights and responsibilities detailed in the current Northwest Florida State College Catalog and Student Handbook. Plagiarism, cheating, or any other form of academic dishonesty is a serious breach of student responsibilities and may trigger consequences which range from a failing grade to formal disciplinary action.

Other Important Notes

You are responsible for all material presented in class and within the book. If a lecture is not completed during class time, you are still responsible for understanding the material in the book. Any missed materials are your responsibility, i.e., the instructor will not hand out materials. It is strongly suggested that you read the chapter ahead of time and ask questions during office hours. It is your responsibility to keep up with the content of this course.

All class communication will be conducted in class, during office hours, or via NWFSC email, except grades. Grades will NOT be given out via email. You can check your final grade through RaiderNet via NWFSC's webpage. Only NWFSC email accounts will be used.

Policies are subject to change. You will be notified of any changes.
