NWF Welding program will host info session on fall 2017 admission

NICEVILLE, FL- The welding program at Northwest Florida State College will host an information session for those interested in learning more about admission to the program for the fall 2017 semester.

The session will be held on Thursday, May 25 at 4:30 p.m. in building 400 (Student Services Center), room 133, on the Niceville Campus. Registration is not required to attend the session.

At the session, potential students will learn about the application process, program requirements and the competitive selection process, which is based upon a criteria point system. Attendance will count as ten points towards the admissions application.

For more information, call the Welding Department at 850-729-5224 or email Scottie Smith, welding instructor, at smiths60@nwfsc.edu.
