Course materials will be ordered for each student based on their class registration.

Students must check their NWFSC email for confirmation that their course materials are ready for pick up. Once this email is received, the student may come pick up their order during open hours.

Bring student ID to pick up course materials: download ID123 (app can be found in the App Store on ios devices or on Google Play) to have a digital copy of your student ID.

Parents may pick up course materials on behalf of the student.

Students may email the bookstore at sm8054@bncollege.com to request an email with their access code instead of pick up.

Some courses do not require any course materials. Recommended course materials are not covered under the Annual Articulation Agreement. Students who wish to purchase Recommended materials would do so at their own expense.

Some courses have a book that can be found online via Openstax at no cost. While there may be a printed version available at the bookstore, the cost of this material is not covered.
